GSI Group Hires New Occupational Health Nurse

Assumption, IL — October 17, 2007 — Kim Casey has joined the GSI Group as an Occupational Health Nurse. Kim Casey is an accomplished RN with over 12 years of success in the nursing field.

Kim will be responsible for the assessment, treatment and follow-up for all occupational injuries and illness, as well as performing all the required screenings (such as hearing, drug and alcohol, respirator fitness, etc.). Kim will also develop and coordinate a variety of wellness activities such as blood drives, flu clinics and health fairs.

Kim most recently held the position of Occupational Health Services Manager for Fayette County Hospital in Vandalia, Illinois, where she was responsible for providing occupational medical services for almost fifty (50) outside companies. Prior to this role, Kim served in numerous nursing positions of increasing responsibility within Fayette County Hospital and also with St. John's Hospital Emergency Room in Springfield, Illinois. Her broad and diverse experience in all areas of nursing and case management will prove to be a great asset to our team.

Kim earned her B.S. degree in Nursing from the St. John's College.

The GSI Group is a manufacturer and worldwide supplier of grain storage, drying, conditioning, and handling equipment, poultry and swine production equipment, heating and ventilation systems for poultry, swine, and dairy barn applications, and more.
